WHAT WE DO

Writopia Lab is a national nonprofit organization that runs creative writing workshops for kids and teens. Workshops are conducted at public schools and were and by publishers, award-winning writers and instructors trained in our pedagogy. Any student is welcome to come and at least one well-developed, polished piece over the course of their session.

FUN AND PRODUCTIVE WORKSHOPS FOR CHILDREN AND TEENS

Inside our workshops, students learn to

CREATIVE WRITING WORKSHOPS

Our workshops focus on creative expression and the joy of storytelling. They are taught by industry professionals who can comment on your piece, provide inspiration, and help you develop your voice as a writer.

Writopia Lab is a national nonprofit organization that runs creative writing workshops for kids and teens. Workshops are conducted at public schools and were and by publishers, award-winning writers and instructors trained in our pedagogy. Any student is welcome to come and at least one well-developed, polished piece over the course of their session.

inside our workshops, students learn to

WHY WRITE AT WROTIPOA?

Writopia Lab is refreshingly creative, personal, and comforting. It’s an environment where students can develop their writing skills and explore new ideas. Our instructors are experienced writers and educators who can help students improve their craft.

WHAT OUR STUDENTS SAY

“Writopia Lab is a very creative and fun place to learn the art of writing. It’s a great opportunity to meet new people and share your writing with others.”

“Writopia Lab is a very creative and fun place to learn the art of writing. It’s a great opportunity to meet new people and share your writing with others.”

CREATE, WRITE, EXPLORE, NURTURE, REVIVE, ENLIVEN, ANALYZE, HUMOR, INVENT, EVOLVE, TRANSFORM

WritopiaLab.org

OUR STUDENTS SHARE THEIR WRITING WITH THE WORLD: PUBLICATIONS, PUBLIC READINGS, ONLINE LITERARY MAGAZINES, OFF-BROADWAY PRODUCTIONS!

WHEN CREATIVE WRITING HELPS

Our students win more Scholastic Awards than any other group of students in the nation. Over the last 10 years, Writopia Lab has received over 2,000 of these awards. Our students publish their work in a variety of outlets, including Writopia Lab’s own newspaper, Crosswicks, and on the website. Writopia Lab has published more than 200 students on our website, and our students have published over 500 pieces of work. Our students also have access to our email list, where they can share their writing with their friends and family. They also have access to our social media, where they can connect with other writers and readers. Our students can also participate in our annual writing competitions, where they can win prizes and have their work featured. Writopia Lab is a national nonprofit organization that runs creative writing workshops for kids and teens. Workshops are conducted at public schools and were and by publishers, award-winning writers and instructors trained in our pedagogy. Any student is welcome to come and at least one well-developed, polished piece over the course of their session.

Our students win more Scholastic Awards than any other group of students in the nation. Over the last 10 years, Writopia Lab has received over 2,000 of these awards. Our students publish their work in a variety of outlets, including Writopia Lab’s own newspaper, Crosswicks, and on the website. Writopia Lab has published more than 200 students on our website, and our students have published over 500 pieces of work. Our students also have access to our email list, where they can share their writing with their friends and family. They also have access to our social media, where they can connect with other writers and readers. Our students can also participate in our annual writing competitions, where they can win prizes and have their work featured.